Cassidy is a great instructor with her practice problems that translate into homework problems. I appreciate her willingness to provide office hours and respond to each student's problems in person or online.

Actively sought confusion with coursework which was nice, very personable and comfortable to talk to, I'm glad she taught me this quarter

She is very relatable and knows how to communicate with her students. I think this made understanding the material a lot easier. Coming from someone with not much coding background, I think the material moved at a good pace. I love the structure of this class - doing practice problems during class and then having a weekly homework. Overall, I would take her class again! Thanks Cassie!

Great class, I've learned a lot these past few weeks and I think your teaching methods are very effective. I like how your teaching format wasn't only just lecture but also leaving time for practice problems in class. I think that really reinforces the material that was taught. I've had previous professors that would provide practice but never actually explain the problems in class. Overall, I really enjoyed the class and I think you are one of the better instructors that I've had. Thank you for all your hard work!

Cassie was overall a great instructor and made class fun with use of examples and humor. She always made sure all of our questions were answered and communicated with us through microsoft teams so we could always ask questions. My only constructive criticism is that sometimes I felt like she went too fast, but we gave her that feedback in the beginning of the term and she adjusted her teaching speed for us.

Cassie is an excellent instructor who makes herself readily accessible to students. She makes it a priority to address students' questions and concerns in a timely manner and always puts her best foot forward. I do believe there are certain areas for growth, particularly when it comes to the structure and organization of the course. At times, there is a considerable amount of information to cover, and the pace can be a bit fast. Overall, I would recommend Cassie to any LeBow student who is not only seeking to learn but seeking to be challenged.

Cassie is a great instructor, she's also hilarious and real. I will say the class content itself needs to be reevaluated it was a bit confusing and tedious at times but Cassie did her best to explain and discuss. I realize this is a fairly newer program but I believe the BSAN department should look into other languages/programs of code for us to use practically R is a pain and at least in my experience not an applicable skill to many jobs currently available. We need more classes teaching Tableau or maybe even SQL. I also wish the structures of the assignment were less tedious but again this isn't Cassie's fault and I know that this class is still a work in progress.

Awesome professor - Had many streams of communication so I felt very comfortable asking questions and expressing concerns

Cassie did an excellent job as an instructor of the course. She had labelled the structure of the course excellently well and gave good critical feedback on the coursework. She definitely is one of the best Phd students I've had as an instructor at Drexel and would recommend her to be taken by another college student at LeBow.

Cassie is patient and cares about her students. She is open to discussion and teaches the material in a detailed and understandable manner.

Cassy was one of the best teachers I've taken in all my years at Drexel. Super helpful and patient, even when explaining difficult subject matter! She clearly knows what she's taking about. I would recommend her class to anyone!
